I. Introduction

Practical Work (KP) is a series of activities that encompass the understanding of theoretical and conceptual knowledge applied in professional settings. KP enhances students' perspectives, knowledge, and skills, enabling them to address academic and practical challenges in alignment with the theories they have acquired during their studies.

The implementation of KP aims to ensure that students can comprehensively understand and effectively apply the knowledge within their field of study. Additionally, it allows students to gain insight into professional careers and workplace environments.

As part of these objectives, the curriculum of Politeknik Negeri Sriwijaya includes Practical Work (KP) as a mandatory course. KP is a curricular activity that must be undertaken by every student upon completing the fourth semester (for Diploma programs) or the sixth semester (for Applied Bachelor programs). This practical work serves as an opportunity for students to gain hands-on experience, develop relevant skills, and acquire expertise by the competencies required in their respective study programs.

2. Objectives and Benefits

The Practical Work (KP) program aims to achieve the following objectives:

1. Provide students with the opportunity to apply the theoretical and conceptual knowledge acquired during their studies to real-world settings within an organization or company.
2. Enable students to gain practical experience relevant to their academic knowledge and acquired skills.
3. Allow students to analyze and evaluate the relationship between theoretical concepts and their practical implementation in a professional environment.
4. Assess students' competencies in knowledge, skills, and their ability to apply these in practice, as well as their professional attitudes and workplace behavior.
5. Obtain feedback from industries regarding students' competencies and industry needs to support curriculum development.
